Genesis

The increasing awareness about traditional systems of health (Complementary & Alternative Medicines-CAM) and their use, particularly in chronic and difficult to treat disease conditions has been consistently increasing globally over the last few decades. The large- scale data of recent experiences and clinical research in prevention & management of asymptomatic to mild & moderate cases of Covid 19 and convalescing persons with AYUSH systems have brought these systems to the centre-stage of Public Health. Similar experiences have also been observed with other traditional health systems globally, in several countries from Africa to Asia which need to be shared broadly. The WHO has also offered to set up an Advanced Centre for Research & Development in AYUSH in India. Several other countries have shown interest in promoting AYUSH & their LHTs in Public Health management.

It is, therefore, proposed to organize an International Conference on using AYUSH & LHTS for Public Health in Lucknow on 16th & 17th April, 2022, largely with virtual mode of participation (Tentative Program attached). The program envisages to discuss the issues ranging from initiatives being taken to promote Public Health, education and research to in these systems globally. This will not only strengthen the initiatives from the Department of AYUSH of the Government of India and several states, but also by other countries and WHO to help in promoting these in Public Health including the Management of Covid 19. The conference will be attended by Academia, Government, AYUSH related industry, researchers, students and society at large.

Jeevaniya Society has been involved in promoting the application of Indian Health Systems for Public Health for the last 3 decades. The Society has published a lot of IEC Material for Health Education and organized a number of National & International meetings and Conferences, besides promoting use of AYUSH & Local Health Traditions (LHTs) at grassroot level for Health & Wellness. It actively helped the Ministry of AYUSH, Gol in organizing a Brainstorming Session on AYUSH & Public Health at Lucknow in September 2018. Since the Conference is being organized on the occasion of 30th year of the establishment of Jeevaniya Society, its contribution in this field shall also be presented.
